Founded in 1985, Fullers Finer Furniture has established itself as one of the leading manufacturers of bespoke church furniture.

From our humble beginnings in a small garage, to our state of the art workshops and offices, examples of our work can be seen in places of worship across the country; from lecterns, fonts and communion tables through to complete reorders.

The ethos of the company is to design and create beautiful quality items of furniture, consultation with the client from the concept stage to the finished article is an all important part of the process.

We pride ourselves with our customer service from the first stage of the enquiry through to the finished article and we aim to achieve nothing less than 100% customer satisfaction.

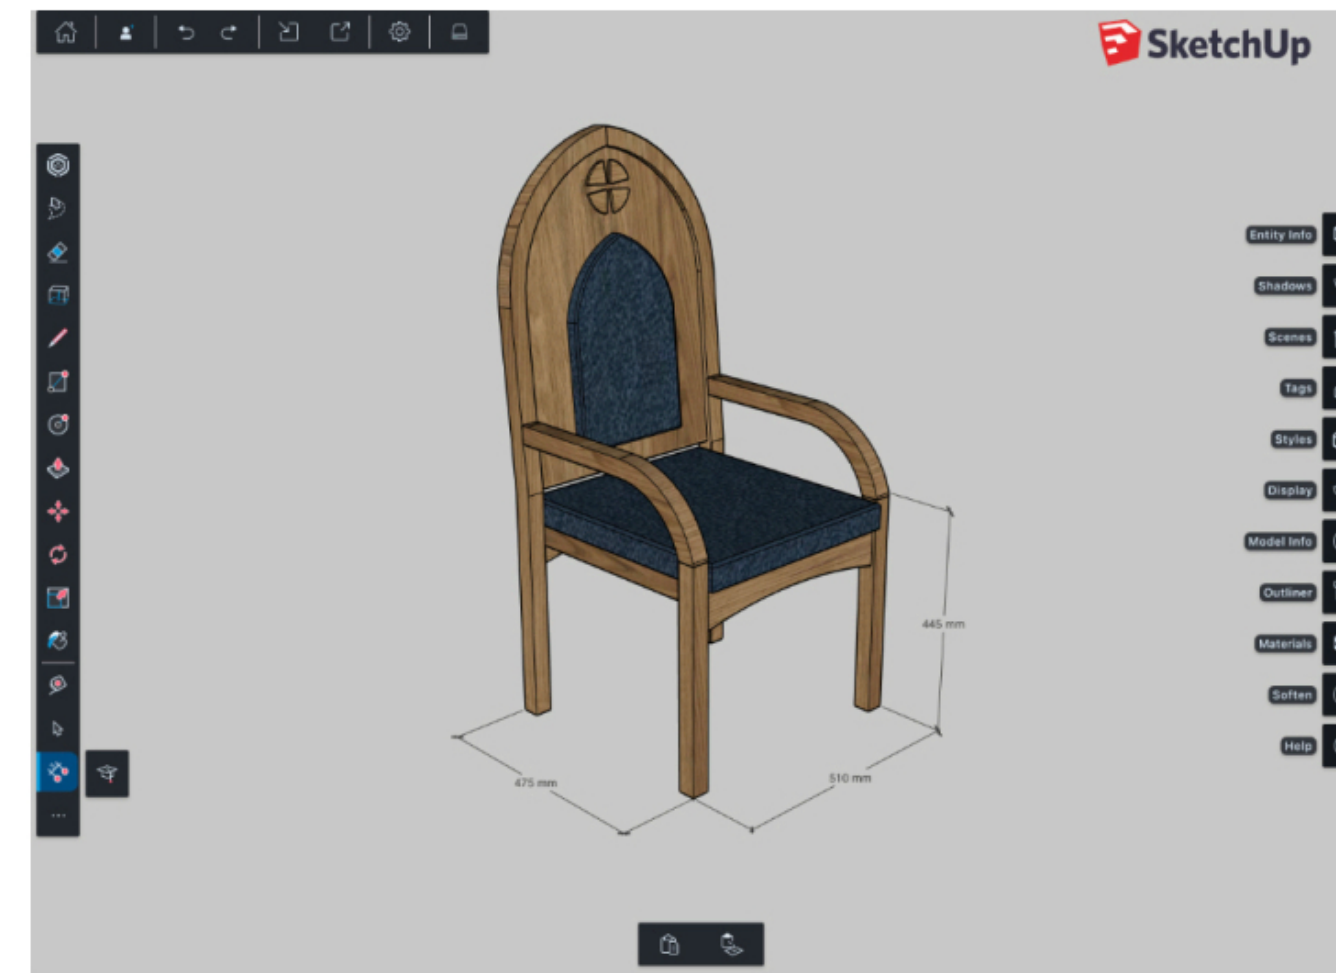

Proprietor Paul Fuller has won medals for his cabinet making skills, coming top in the country three times whilst serving his apprenticeship as part of the City and Guilds Institute qualifications. The company is a member of The Guild Of Master Craftsmen and Paul Fuller himself is a member of The Worshipful Company of Furniture Makers.

Here at Fullers Finer Furniture we pride ourselves on our top quality craftsmanship and attention to detail. Every piece of furniture is handmade to order and maximum care is taken to produce top quality items which will stand the test of time.

From the brief. . .

The start of the process will be a consultation with the client. Which can be done over the phone or in person, where we discuss what you would like to accomplish from the finished piece of furniture. This is an all important part of the process and we can help you in the right direction due to our many years of knowledge and understanding.

The next stage of the process is the design work. Together with the client, we will come up with a proposed design that will then be discussed and edited until the perfect design is achieved.

We use Computer Aided Design to give you an accurate scaled drawing of the piece of furniture. This will be done to the highest level by one of our professional team.

To the finished piece!

Once the design has been finalised, we move into the workshops where your piece of furniture will be made. Our highly skilled furniture makers will use their wealth of knowledge and expertise to handcraft your bespoke piece to the highest standards.

Once your piece has been made, and the final finishing touches have been completed, it will be time for delivery. Your piece of furniture will be delivered on our vehicles to ensure that your furniture is handled with the utmost respect and care during transit.

The Canterbury and York Lectern

The award winning Canterbury Lectern and its larger sister the York have been designed with a fully adjustable gas strut for height control and are available in five finishes; light oak, medium oak, ash, mahogany and beech, with the option of contrasting embellishments.

The unique adjustment system enables the height of the lectern to be raised and lowered by the simple touch of a lever. The Lecterns are also fitted with castors for quick and easy movement. The two rear castors are fitted with breaks to ensure the Lectern remains static whilst in use.

We use only the finest quality timbers and veneers, specially selected to match the client's requirements. Each Lectern is designed to fit in with the surroundings in which it is to be placed; therefore we supply samples of finishes and colours to achieve the best result. If your church has a logo we can also incorporate it into the design. Alternatively, you may wish to leave the front panel blank or include a cross.

Our York and Canterbury Lecterns are fitted with a shock mount socket for a microphone as standard. As an added extra you can also include a tablet lip. When not in use, the tablet lip sits flush with the surface of the desk, when the tablet lip is flipped over, it provides a support for your tablet leaving you with a tidy and organised reading desk.
